"MINIMALIST WARMTH" IN SAN FRANCISCO

Phillip Stone
Founder and Designer

I started The Iron Roots Designs 10 years ago in search of sustainable craftsmanship rooted in integrity. I saw too many products on the market that looked good from afar, but lacked quality upon inspection. I wanted to build pieces that my customers could believe in and trust. Pieces that look at ease in any home or style while still drawing eyes and starting conversations.

A lot has changed in the past 10 years, but that mission hasn't. Every detail of our work is designed with the intention of timeless style and uncompromising quality.

Intentionality doesn't stop there. Once designed, our products are proudly hand crafted in our SF workshop using sustainable hardwood providers and zero waste woodworking techniques.

NATURAL HARMONY COLLECTION

The aim of our Natural Harmony Collection is to be all at once beautiful to look at, a seamless fit into any home, and to proudly last for generations.

With all our designs, Natural Harmony Collection celebrates the beautiful characteristics of the natural world. Just like all of us, it's our unique qualities that make us authentic and special. Our differences are part of our essence. At The Iron Roots Designs, we love that no tree is the same. Before starting a piece, we carefully go through the boards in our wood stock to find the wood grain and hue that will highlight the beauty of the design. The objective is always to achieve the harmony of authenticity, functionality, and sustainability that has come to define our brand.

At the end of the day, our products are crafted to last a lifetime. From the timeless designs that work in any home, to our beautiful hardwood that will form a warm patina in the sunlight of your window. The well-considered design and materials will effortlessly transition from conversation piece to heirloom for the generations to come.

By ordering from this collection, you are joining our dream, process, and journey of discovery and creativity. It is an honor to craft something for you. Thank you.

HARDWOOD OPTIONS

At The Iron Roots Designs we start with the highest grade of hardwood on the market. All our products are crafted exclusively with solid hardwood.

At the end of the build process, we generously apply a combination of natural oils and waxes to bring out the color, figuring, and luster that comes inherently from the chosen species of hardwood.
